I'm taking a break from writing about the Muslim horde this month; the daily horror show from France should be education enough. There is nothing I need to add. Instead I have chosen AI as the subject for my lead article:

Oh the Humanity!

Everyone has an opinion about AI although many do not even know what it is. It is not new. Science fiction writers have warned us about it for decades. I posted a warning on FaceBook earlier this year pointing out that "worse than making you believe the lie, AI would make you doubt the truth." Being a bit of a nerd, I actually read Isaac Asimov's "Three Laws of Robotics" (The Three Laws) before our Commissioner's Court a few years back. In the prior several sessions they had been praising the wonders to come from AI and I felt some reasonable balance was called for.

AI is neither more saintly nor more evil than a kumquat. These things always come down to the hearts of men and AI is no different. And like nuclear fusion, once man has envisioned it, its reality is inevitable. For better or worse, we will be sharing our world with AI.

To begin with, AI is simply software. Traditionally, software is just a series of complex instructions which interact with a machine hopefully to do useful work. Software is not so much a physical entity as it is electrical charges (plus and minus) stored in an electronic device. These are represented as 1 (ones) and 0 (zeros). Every character on your keyboard is represented by 1's and 0's. The number 5 is 0101 to your computer and the number 8 is 1000. What computers lack in brevity they more than make up for in speed regardless of how long it takes your computer to upload Microsoft's operating system.

CERTIFICATE OF AUTHENTICITY: ALL County RPT Sentinels contain this document as certification of its authenticity. "The Sentinel is a product of your local County Republican Party. It is produced with the understanding that the Founders of the United States, authors of both the Declaration of Independence and the U.S. Constitution, had the best vision for our country and wrote the principles of our Constitutional Republic into these two documents. Our agreement with these principles is reflected on the pages of this newsletter. Our Founders believed in citizen involvement and cautioned that this was necessary to maintain a free Republic and limited government. We call upon readers of the Sentinel to hold us always to these standards. It is your responsibility to correct us when we stray. We depend on you and your candor."

Conservative Commentators:

On these 2 pages you will find the luminaries of conservative thought. Some of the Sentinel's favorite commentators are more than just political animals; they cover social and cultural issues as well. You may be familiar with most of them, but you might also find a new favorite. Here we provide you with links to their many articles and video clips from Youtube, Facebook and numerous other platforms. Remember, in Facebook, check out the "Reels." Radio call-outs on cards are local.

Conservative Publications and Branded Content:

On this page you will find links to branded conservative content delivered in various media formats. You will find written articles, video clips, YouTube, Facebook and other links. Most are identified with a known conservative activist and a short bio is provided for each.

(since 2003)
Is a large weekly paper and ink publication and a product of John Tang and other Chinese Americans associated with Falun Gong, a thorn in the side of the CCP (Chinese Communist Party). A subscription to Epoch Times will also get content sent to your email. Click the link to sample recent articles.

Prager U (since 2009)

Founded by radio talk show host and author, Dennis Prager, Prager U provides 5 minute educational video clips on a variety of issues from guest presenters familiar with the topic. The audience is both youthful and international. To get started, click the link.

The Blaze (since 2012)

The Blaze has had several iterations since its founding by talk show host and author, Glen Beck. Today it is a multimedia platform with print, radio, subscription TV and more. Check out the Blaze by clicking the link.

Townhall (since 1995)

A product of heritage Foundation and one of the first conservative internet communities, Townhall was acquired by Salem Communications in 2006. Edited by Katie Pavlich, Townhall is a multimedia platform featuring videos, articles and even cartoons. Yes, conservatives have a sense of humor. Check out the link.

Texas Scorecard (Since 2020)

A print and online publication published by Michael Quinn Sullivan, formerly CEO of Empower Texans. Texas Scorecard ranks, endorses and advocates for conservative Republicans. You'll find video from full length documentaries to short spoofs which will educate and entertain. Just a click away.

The Torch

A publication from the Texas Eagle Forum, you can subscribe for a fee but the archives are free. Just click the link and scroll down the page.

Imprimis (Since 1972)

You've most likely heard of this publication from Hillsdale College. It's delivered free to your mailbox, but you need to subscribe. Just click the link and fill out a short form.

The Daily Signal (Since 2014)

A publication from Heritage Foundation, you can subscribe for free and content will be delivered to your email or you can view it at your leisure by clicking the link.

Conservative Organizations:

PragerU - The brain child of talk-show host Dennis Prager, PragerU consists of video clips (about 5 minutes each) on various topics. If you give PragerU five minutes, it will give you an education.

Act for America - Founded by Lebanese born Christian, Brigitte Gabriel, on the ashes of 9-11, Act's main focus is national security and the threat of radical Islam.

Grassroots America - Is Texas based and local, meeting monthly in Tyler, Texas. (see calendar and organizations) Founded by Constitutional Conservative JoAnn Fleming, their mission statement is to, "Advance the cause of liberty." Well worth the drive.

Texas Nationalist Movement - Founded by Daniel Miller, TNM is a secessionist movement taking authority from the Texas State Constitution Article 1 sec 1 & 2. Interested? The local chapter meets in Lindale. (see calendar and organizations)

ACLJ - American Center for Law and Justice - Founded by evangelical minister, Pat Robertson and led by Chief Council Jay Sekulow, ACLJ's mission it to protect religious liberty as provided for by the First Amendment.

Alliance Defending Freedom - is a legal advocacy group seeking to promote religious liberty in the public domain.

Texas Eagle Forum - is a decidedly Texas spin-off from Phyllis Schlafly's original Eagle Forum. The focus is on inside Texas politics from candidates to convention. You will find numerous "Hot Topics" relating to concerns in the lone star state.

Homeschool Legal Defense Association - More than just legal support, HSLDA will help get you started on your homeschooling journey with numerous resources found on their website. If you do get pushback from your local or State government, HSLDA will hook you up with a local attorney experienced in this field and may even help with fees.

Judicial Watch - shedding light on corruption and malfeasance since 1994. Headed by Tom Fitton since 2003, Judicial Watch covers the issues we all care about.

The Heritage Foundation - more than just a place to get inexpensive pocket Constitutions in bulk, the Heritage Foundation is a think tank developing policies and strategies to advance conservative ideals.

Freedomworks - a national grassroots activist organization. Interested in getting involved? Check out the link.

Daily Wire - a multimedia outlet from Ben Shapiro known for their Facebook content. You will find many favorites from Jordan Peterson to Dennis Prager on this site. Content includes videos, podcasts, articles and more.

Condemned USA - a January 6 advocacy group founded by Treniss Evans. On this website read Treniss's story, view the extensive video footage from January 6, get involved. What happens to J6ers going forward is our future, yours and mine. Be the author or the victim.

True Texas Project - a Constitutionally grounded conservative Christian advocacy group. Best characterized by this statement from their own hand-out: "I am A TRUE TEXAN. I am A LEGENDARY BREED. I am PART OF A MOVEMENT. I BELIEVE IN FREEDOM AT ALL COSTS. I am AN ACTIVIST, NOT AN OBSERVER. I am UNSTOPPABLE. COME AND TAKE IT." I think this sums it up. If you wish to get active and not sit on the sidelines, click the link.

True the Vote - a cause near and dear to the Sentinel's heart, TTV is a voting integrity advocacy group active across the state. Not only advocating for hand-marked, pre-printed, serialized paper ballots, but also involved in educating citizens about pernicious software. Join their podcasts here.

Turning Point - Focused on youth and taking back America's campuses. There are chapters across the country. If you have children or grandchildren going off to college, this is the best way to protect your investment from assaults from the left.

Cpac - Certainly one of the oldest conservative groups. We have all watched a Cpac convention to see our favorite candidates speak. If a monthly newsletter is not enough, sign up for CPAC's email alerts here.

Convention of States Action – The largest grassroots activist organization in the country, if not the world. The group promotes to state legislatures in all 50 states to call for a Convention for proposing amendments under Article V of the US Constitution in order to limit the power, money and terms of the federal government. This activist army also gets involved in many other conservative causes around the country.

FYI - Post Texas State Republican Convention 2024, 46 Republican House members signed a letter committed to supporting for Speaker, only candidates who pledge to not appoint Democrats to committee chairmanships. What's missing? Cole Heffner's signature!

Donald Trump, 47th President of the United States, advocates "No Tax on Tips." Many patrons of restaurants, and other establishments where tipping is common, are noting this on their bill in an attempt to educate those who work in the service industry. Texas US Senator, Ted Cruz, has already introduced the legislation. Could this be the tipping point? DJT also advocates for no tax on OT! Could be the next big thing.

If you wish to personally get into the details of Texas politics, the following links may be just the ticket:

Conservative Contrasts:

Rules for Radicals by Saul Alinsky PDF — As good conservatives, we must know our enemy and his tactics. This is the long version (pop some corn). Favored by both Hilary Clinton and Barak Obama, this is the playbook of the left. Why the rules of civil society do not apply to them. In a Nut Shell The Sentinel uses the term "nut" advisedly here.

Rules for Deplorables - A primer for fighting radical socialism How President Trump, and a well read conservative, turn the rules on the left.

The Communist Manifesto - The Sentinel wonders how much profit has been generated selling this book. Ironic? Conservatives don't have a manifesto - its not what we are about. What we have are PRINCIPLES. Principles as detailed in several books and documents.

The Law – Written in 1850 by Frederic Bastiat in response to the European Marxist movement. His focus, like the American founding, is on the preservation of God-given rights of Life, Liberty and Property. If you have any misunderstanding of individual liberty as given through God's Grace, this will clear it up for you. And you will understand that the only role of "Government" is to resolve conflict between individuals when these three are contested.

AI is software on steroids. Like human beings, it is actually capable of learning from experience. It will amend itself with new lines of code not written by a software engineer, but by the AI program itself. This is an important distinction and I caution you to keep this in mind as you read this article. The reason it has not been a matter of concern before is that to make "informed" decisions, AI requires a lot of data. Enter the mega data centers that are filling the news currently. For centuries the belief was that if man knew more, he would make better decisions. Just between you and me, recent history has proven this to be a folly.

Man makes decisions based not simply on data, but on values. A person who values human life is far less likely to take the life of another whimsically. EXACTLY WHERE DOES AI GET ITS VALUES? This is a profound question and one which must be answered for the safety of all mankind. Reason suggests they come either inadvertently or intentionally from the software engineer who wrote the AI program. Remember in the movie "2001 a Space Odyssey" when HAL 9000 locked Dave out of the Spaceship while in space? This was an AI warning to future generations conceived by Arthur C Clarke and delivered cinematically by Stanley Kubrick. Dave had good reason to believe that HAL (Heuristically programmed ALogrithmic computer) was taking over the mission and should have its AI functions disabled. HAL viewed this as an existential threat and was willing to kill Dave to save itself.

Without a clear set of values programmed in, like Asimov's three laws of robotics, AI must sift through volumes of data to compile for itself something akin to a moral code. What guides this decision? What keeps our experience of AI from descending into a twenty-first century version of "Lord of the Flies?"

I am hardly a "technophobe!" I made my career in high tech. I know of its many wonders and accomplishments. My church's Sunday school teacher uses AI to create stunning Power Point presentations to accompany his lessons. Authors use it to polish their work. However, as an author myself, this concerns me. Will today's youth learn how to write creatively if AI is doing the creative work for them? How soon until all writing sounds alike? Where is the humanity, the quirky little eccentricities that distinguish the poetry of Shakespeare from that of A. A. Milne?

Much can be gained with AI. However, much can be lost as well. We would be wise to proceed with caution. Even Elon Musk, who is heavily invested in AI, has said so. We should listen.

Sentinel Library

The Sentinel editorial staff may not agree with every point made in the following literary works. However, for conservatives, true diversity is expressed as diversity of thought, not that of gender identity, race or color. What we do agree on is that you will find true wisdom in the works of these varied authors.

Recommended Books:

Geneva Bible Recorded by numerous authors

The unerring word of God, you will not find significant textual differences in this and the Bible you may take to church. However, the notes in the margins were the reason for persecution of Christians leading up to the colonization of the Western world. Simple possession of a Geneva Bible was a capital offence. The notes record the scriptural imperative of liberty or "free will" as the Bible refers to it. This is the Bible the Pilgrims brought to our shores. You will find an education in it. Rare and difficult to find, however the Kindle Version with the marginal notes is readily available and inexpensive. Expensive hard copy $$$

Navigating the Sentinel:

It is the mission of the Sentinel to be a single, reliable resource for all things conservative in Wood County and the surrounding area.

Links:

Links are used extensively in the Sentinel to access content, both within the Sentinel and on other platforms. Notice on page 1, to the left, are a number of links to internal content. You will find other links throughout the Sentinel. Just click on the link to find your desired content.

Conservative Content:

In the Sentinel, you will find content from conservative voices past and present, local and even international. These consist of articles, images and videos from various platforms. To access this content look for light gray text which is underlined. These are links which will take you to the desired content. Simply click on the link. The desired content should appear. Occasionally, content is taken down by the provider for any one of a number of reasons. The Sentinel has no control over this, however if you wish, notify us of the problematic link here and we will see if we can find a replacement.

Events:

On page 1, select the link “Wood County Calendar” or “What’s Up in Wood County” for a more detailed description of local happenings.

Groups, Organizations and Clubs:

Links to clubs are local to Wood County. It is a good way to get involved. Additionally, you will find links to various groups and organizations in the Sentinel which may be national or even international. You may view their content, engage with them on line or attend events which they have publicized.

Government:

On page 1, linking to “Wood County Government” or “Rains County Government,” you will find links to various local government agencies and departments. Additionally, you will find links to your State and National representatives and offices which we vote on locally. Also there are pages for Schools (ISDs) and Cities which we hope will encourage involvement in local government.

Voting and Election information:

We regret to inform you, but the local press are notorious for printing wrong information regarding election times and polling locations. Please look to the Sentinel to find current updates on polling locations and voting hours. There is even a link where you can check to be sure your registration is current. The registration deadline is also provided. If you really want to get involved, consider working at a polling location. Email us your contact information here, let us know you are interested in working and we will contact you shortly.
